

Keep important text and graphics within the green line

Keep important text and graphics within the green line Telcome to the book of Acts! You're about to see how Christianity went from a tiny Jewish sect to a multiethnic movement that upended and outlasted the Roman Empire. Imagine trying to convince someone that an executed Jewish carpenter they'd never heard of had returned from the dead and was the Son of God, and that weakness, sacrifice, and kindness were more powerful than wealth or military might. Somehow, they proved it. This is the origin story of the kingdom of God. You'll witness moments that seemed like they'd end everything: violent oppression, internal conflicts, shipwrecks, and imprisonment. Despite all of that,

Christianity shaped civilization as we know it today.

Daily Reading Assignments - January 1st - April 5th, 2026

Many of you love having specific, daily reading assignments. These first pages have each day's Scripture reading. If you're using this guide and it's not Jan-Apr 2026, feel free to ignore or even tear out these pages.

Thursday, January 1st Acts 1:1-14 Happy New Year! Friday, January 2nd Saturday, January 3rd Sunday, January 4th Monday, January 5th Acts 2:1-13 Tuesday, January 7th Acts 2:37-47 Wednesday, January 9th Sunday, January 9th Acts 4:1-22 Saturday, January 10th Sunday, January 11th Monday, January 12th Tuesday, January 13th Acts 4:23-37 Wednesday, January 14th Acts 5:1-16 Wed Night / 6pm		, ,		1 3
Friday, January 2nd Saturday, January 3rd Sunday, January 4th Monday, January 5th Acts 2:1-13 Tuesday, January 7th Acts 2:37-47 Wed Night / 6pm Thursday, January 9th Acts 4:1-22 Saturday, January 10th Sunday, January 12th Monday, January 12th Tuesday, January 13th Wednesday, January 13th Wednesday, January 14th Acts 4:23-37 Wednesday, January 14th Acts 5:1-16 Wed Night / 6pm	X	Date:	Reference	Notes
Saturday, January 3rd Sunday, January 4th Monday, January 5th Acts 2:1-13 Tuesday, January 6th Acts 2:14-36 Wednesday, January 7th Acts 2:37-47 Wed Night / 6pm Thursday, January 9th Acts 3:1-26 Friday, January 9th Acts 4:1-22 Saturday, January 10th Sunday, January 11th Monday, January 12th Tuesday, January 13th Acts 4:23-37 Wednesday, January 14th Acts 5:1-16 Wed Night / 6pm		Thursday, January 1st	Acts 1:1-14	Happy New Year!
Sunday, January 4th Monday, January 5th Acts 2:1-13 Tuesday, January 6th Acts 2:14-36 Wednesday, January 7th Acts 2:37-47 Wed Night / 6pm Thursday, January 9th Acts 4:1-22 Saturday, January 10th Sunday, January 11th Monday, January 12th Tuesday, January 13th Acts 4:23-37 Wednesday, January 14th Acts 5:1-16 Wed Night / 6pm		Friday, January 2nd	Acts 1:15-26
Monday, January 5th Tuesday, January 6th Wednesday, January 7th Acts 2:14-36 Wednesday, January 7th Acts 2:37-47 Wed Night / 6pm Thursday, January 8th Friday, January 9th Acts 4:1-22 Saturday, January 10th Sunday, January 11th Monday, January 12th Tuesday, January 13th Wednesday, January 14th Acts 4:23-37 Wednesday, January 14th Wed Night / 6pm		Saturday, January 3rd
Tuesday, January 6th Wednesday, January 7th Acts 2:37-47 Wed Night / 6pm Thursday, January 8th Acts 3:1-26 Friday, January 9th Acts 4:1-22 Saturday, January 10th Sunday, January 11th Monday, January 12th Tuesday, January 13th Wednesday, January 14th Acts 5:1-16 Wed Night / 6pm		Sunday, January 4th		See you at church!
Wednesday, January 7th Acts 2:37-47 Wed Night / 6pm Thursday, January 8th Acts 3:1-26 Friday, January 9th Acts 4:1-22 Saturday, January 10th Sunday, January 11th Monday, January 12th Tuesday, January 13th Wednesday, January 14th Acts 4:23-37 Wednesday, January 14th Wed Night / 6pm		Monday, January 5th	Acts 2:1-13
Thursday, January 8th Friday, January 9th Acts 4:1-22 Saturday, January 10th Sunday, January 11th Monday, January 12th Tuesday, January 13th Wednesday, January 14th Acts 5:1-16 Wed Night / 6pm		Tuesday, January 6th	Acts 2:14-36
Friday, January 9th Saturday, January 10th Sunday, January 11th Monday, January 12th Tuesday, January 13th Wednesday, January 14th Acts 4:23-37 Wednesday, January 14th Wed Night / 6pm		Wednesday, January 7th	Acts 2:37-47	Wed Night / 6pm
Saturday, January 10th Sunday, January 11th Monday, January 12th Tuesday, January 13th Wednesday, January 14th Monday, January 13th Acts 4:23-37 Wednesday, January 14th Wed Night / 6pm		Thursday, January 8th	Acts 3:1-26
Sunday, January 11th Monday, January 12th Tuesday, January 13th Wednesday, January 14th Monday, January 13th Acts 4:23-37 Wednesday, January 14th Wed Night / 6pm		Friday, January 9th	Acts 4:1-22
Monday, January 12th Tuesday, January 13th Wednesday, January 14th Acts 4:23-37 Wed Night / 6pm		Saturday, January 10th
Tuesday, January 13th Acts 4:23-37 Wednesday, January 14th Acts 5:1-16 Wed Night / 6pm		Sunday, January 11th		Church!
Wednesday, January 14th Acts 5:1-16 Wed Night / 6pm		Monday, January 12th	1 Peter 1:3-21
		Tuesday, January 13th	Acts 4:23-37
Thursday, January 15th Acts 5:17-42		Wednesday, January 14th	Acts 5:1-16	Wed Night / 6pm
		Thursday, January 15th	Acts 5:17-42

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints Keep important text and graphics within the green line Keep important text and graphics within the green line Friday, January 16th Acts 6:1-7 Saturday, January 17th Sunday, January 18th Church time:) Monday, January 19th Acts 6:8-15 Tuesday, January 20th Acts 7:1-29 Wednesday, January 21st Wed Night / 6pm Acts 7:30-53 Thursday, January 22nd Acts 8:1-8 Acts 8:9-25 Friday, January 23rd Saturday, January 24th Sunday, January 25th Get to church! Monday, January 26th Acts 8:26-40 Tuesday, January 27th Acts 9:1-19 Wednesday, January 28th 1 Cor 15:1-11; Wed Night / 6pm Gal 1:11-24 Thursday, January 29th Acts 9:20-31 Women's Retreat 6pm-8pm Friday, January 30th Acts 9:32-43 Women's Retreat Saturday, January 31st 8:30am-2pm Sunday, February 1st Church Day! Monday, February 2nd Acts 10:1-23 Tuesday, February 3rd Acts 10:24-48 Wednesday, February 4th Wed Night / 6pm Acts 11:1-18 Thursday, February 5th Acts 11:19-30 Friday, February 6th Acts 12:1-25 Saturday, February 7th Sunday, February 8th See you at church! Monday, February 9th Acts 13:1-12 Tuesday, February 10th Acts 13:13-25 Wednesday, February 11th Wed Night / 6pm Acts 13:26-52 Thursday, February 12th Acts 14:1-20 Keep important text and graphics within the green line Keep important text and graphics within the green line

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints Keep important text and graphics within the green line Keep important text and graphics within the green line Friday, February 13th Acts 14:21-28 Saturday, February 14th Valentine's Day! Sunday, February 15th Get to church Monday, February 16th Acts 15:1-21 Tuesday, February 17th Gal 5:1-12 Wednesday, February 18th Wed Night / 6pm Acts 15:22-35 Thursday, February 19th Acts 15:36-41 Friday, February 20th Acts 16:1-15 Saturday, February 21st FMSC - 12pm Sunday, February 22nd It's Church! Monday, February 23rd Acts 16:16-24 Tuesday, February 24th Acts 16:25-40 Wednesday, February 25th Phil 1:3-30 Wed Night / 6pm Thursday, February 26th Acts 17:1-15 Friday, February 27th 1 Thess 2:1-20 Saturday, February 28th Sunday, March 1st Church Monday, March 2nd Acts 17:16-34 Tuesday, March 3rd Acts 18:1-17 1 Cor 2:1-16 Wednesday, March 4th No Wed Activities Thursday, March 5th Acts 18:18-28 Friday, March 6th Acts 19:1-22 Daylight Saving Time! Saturday, March 7th Sunday, March 8th See you at church! Monday, March 9th Ephesians 2:11-3:13 Tuesday, March 10th Acts 19:21-41 Wednesday, March 11th Romans 8:1-39 No Wed Activities Thursday, March 12th Acts 20:1-12 Keep important text and graphics within the green line Keep important text and graphics within the green line

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where w
Keep important text and graphics within the green line		Keep important text and gra	aphics within the green lin	e
	,	Friday, March 13th	Acts 20:13-38	1
		Saturday, March 14th
		Sunday, March 15th		Worship with us.
i 💻 I		Monday, March 16th	Acts 21:1-16
ı 💻		Tuesday, March 17th	Acts 21:17-26	St. Patrick's Day!
		Wednesday, March 18th	Acts 21:27-40	No Wed Activities
		Thursday, March 19th	Acts 22:1-21
i 👅		Friday, March 20th	Acts 22:22-30	I
I 📥		Saturday, March 21st		1
		Sunday, March 22nd		Church is here!
¦ 		Monday, March 23rd	Acts 23:1-11
i 💻		Tuesday, March 24th	Acts 23:12-35	1
l 💻		Wednesday, March 25th	Acts 24:1-27	No Wed Activities
		Thursday, March 26th	Acts 25:1-27
		Friday, March 27th	Acts 26:1-32
		Saturday, March 28th		1
l 🔚		Sunday, March 29th		Church!!
		Monday, March 30th	Romans 15:1-27
ı 💻		Tuesday, March 31st	Acts 27:1-26
		Wednesday, April 1st	Acts 27:27-44	Wed Night / 6pm
		Thursday, April 2nd	Acts 28:1-14	i i 🛁		Friday, April 3rd	Acts 28:15-31	Good Friday
I 🔳		Saturday, April 4th
		Sunday, April 5th		He Is Risen!
l 💻				1
				I
	*			'
Koon important toyt and graphics within the graphics		Koop important tout and an	phice within the green !
Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		Keep important text and gra The pink line is where w

The plank line is where we aim to thin your prints		The plant line is where we aim to thin your plants
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	- H	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
		Acts 1:1-14 DATE / /
		ACIS 1.1-14 DAIL 1 1
		he author, Luke, begins by reminding us that we are reading the sequel to his biography of Jesus, which we call the book of Luke. The fact that there's a Part Two means that the story of Jesus doesn't end with his resurrection or even his ascension. This should encourage us to see ourselves as part of the ongoing story of Jesus. Like the earliest followers, we live in the time between his going and his returning (Acts 1:11). In this way, Acts is a book uniquely for us. Not that it provides a step-by-step blueprint, but a framework for navigating the world until His return.
	' 🐷	Use the space below to write down observations, questions, and prayers.

	' -
	' 🔘
	' 🐷	Notes:
		• Theophilus", to whom this letter was written, literally means "Friend of God." While it is a real name from the first century, some believe Luke might be using it to address anyone taking their next step toward Jesus.
		O Books of the Bible didn't initially have titles. They were added later by other Christians. Given that Jesus tells the Apostles to wait for the Spirit to 1 1
		come to them and the Spirit's heavy influence on the following stories, some have suggested that a more accurate name for this book than Acts of
		the Apostles might be Acts of the Spirit.
Keep important text and graphics within the green line		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line			Keep important text and graphics within the green line
			Acts 1:15-26 DATE / /
	\ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \		ACIS 1.13-20
			arly on, they knew it would be essential to have eyewitnesses
	' 🐷		who could confirm the reality of Jesus's resurrection. As they wait, Peter interprets several Psalms to suggest that they fill the empty spot left by Judas with someone who had been with Jesus from the beginning.
	' -
	' (
			Notes:
			O Peter is eager to replace Judas, so there will be a full twelve apostles to spread the news of Jesus's resurrection. We know that later, Paul would be selected by God himself. It's not clear if Peter jumped the gun or if this was part of God's plan all along. Either way, it's important that the ' (message be spread. It is interesting to note that we don't hear from Matthias after this episode.
			• Is casting lots to determine God's will a real thing (Acts 1:26)? Good question.
			This is an ancient practice to ascertain the will of the gods, and the Israelites also practiced it to determine what Yahweh wanted (Joshua 7:14, 18; 1 Samuel 10:19-24; 1 Chronicles 24:5; 24:31). It's worth noting that it doesn't appear in Scripture again after this instance.
			doesn't appear in octipitute again after this histalice.
		1
			.
Keep important text and graphics within the green line			Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The plant line is where we alim to thin your prints			The plink line is where we aim to thin your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line		+	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
			Acto 0:1.12
			Acts 2:1-13 DATE / /
	00
			T t would be hard to overstate the importance of what is taking place
l de la companya de			in this chapter. God himself is showing up. However, this time, His arrival is not on a mountaintop (Exodus 19:18) or in a temple (1
l l			Kings 8:10–11) but in a people. The arrival of the Spirit mirrors other places in Scripture where God shows up: noise, wind, and fire (Ezekiel 1:4). There's a clear reversal of the Tower of Babel (Genesis 11:1–9).
			There, the nations were scattered and separated by languages. Here
	—
			the nations are gathered, and everywhere they hear the good news in their own language (Acts 2:8-11). There, man tried to reach God
l l		'	through his own means; here, God comes to man.
· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
l e e e e e e e e e e e e e e e e e e e	_
	-
l de la companya de
			Notes:
l de la companya de			O Scholars have noted other parallels between events in the Old Testament and the coming of the Spirit in Acts 2. In Exodus 32:28, when they built the golden calf, "about 3,000" were killed. In Acts, "about 3,000" are l de la companya de			saved. It certainly seems like the coming of the Spirit in Acts 2 represents God's deliberate undoing of the sin and destruction people have
The state of the s			introduced into the world.
			O There's plenty of debate about the concept of speaking in tongues. It's worth pointing out that the "tongues" being spoken here were distinct
The state of the s			languages. It prompts the crowd to ask, "What does this mean?" (Acts
			2:12). That's a good question for us to ponder: What does this mean?
l de la companya de			2.12). That's a good question for as to policie. What also this mean,
		, (1)
Keep important text and graphics within the green line		-	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to tinn your prints		The pink line is where we aim to tim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	-	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
		Acts 2:14-36 DATE / /
		ACIS 2.14-30 DATE / /
		ust weeks earlier, Peter denied even knowing Jesus; now he is boldly proclaiming him to an enormous crowd. He tells them they are experiencing the fulfillment of Joel 2:28-32. Just like
	, 🖳
	' 👝 '	Jesus promised, Peter has the privilege of opening the Kingdom of Heaven to all (Matthew 16:19). It's worth slowing down and carefully reading through this sermon. Peter, quoting Joel, claims that everyone who calls on the name of the "Lord" will be saved, referring to Jesus, yet the original quote says that everyone who calls on the name of "Yahweh" will be saved.
		·
	' 📻 '	·
		l
		1
	' 🖳
		Notes:
		• Peter calls the moment they're experiencing "the last days" (Acts 2:17).
		This is one of those terms that can be confusing. When we think of "last days," we conjure images of Revelation, Armageddon, and the Apocalypse.
		Biblically, "last days" is more accurately understood as the final era of time, but not necessarily the end of the end times. Whether 100 days, 100 years, or 100 centuries, the next thing on God's calendar is the return of Jesus.
	' 🖳
	' 🔘	O Peter quotes Psalm 16:8-11 and Psalm 110:1 to prove to this crowd that Jesus was the Messiah. It's a clever argument. Peter points out that David speaks of someone who would die but not be dead long enough to decompose. The prevailing wisdom thought David was speaking of himself, but Peter points out the obvious: we know where David's tomb is right now, and he's still in it. However, we can look to Jesus's tomb, and it's  	empty.
	I 💮 📗
		L
Keep important text and graphics within the green line		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line			Keep important text and graphics within the green line
	'		DATE / /
			Acts 2:37-47 DATE / /
	' "		he crowd's response to Peter's sermon is emotional. There's a , ,		sense of shock, even horror, as they become convinced that this Jesus, whom they'd dismissed and condemned as a fraud, was in fact the long-awaited Messiah. They were "cut to the heart." The experience of conviction is a painful blessing. It's a crucial step of the pathway of repentance and transformation. You can't be a whole person without going through the breaking of conviction.
	' (
]
	' (6)	Ĭ,)'
	, 🖳 📗
			,
]
	' 🐷		J' '
)
	' '		•
) ;
	1
	' 🖳		Notes:
	, —		O Many of us are familiar with Acts 2:38. This is one of the most explicit
	' 📻 '		outlines of the full human response to God. Though most debates are relatively recent, there have been questions about baptism throughout church history. People ask, "Is baptism essential?" It seems clear that Peter's answer would be "yes," but one wonders if Peter might respond,
			"Why are you even asking?" What would prompt someone to argue about the necessity of baptism as part of one's process of having our sins forgiven \  		(Acts 2:38)? It's helpful that Peter included the line that the promise of
		1 1	forgiveness and the Spirit was for everyone, including us (Acts 2:39).
Keep important text and graphics within the green line			Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to tripe your prints			The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

I ne pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
	A	cts 4:1-22 DATE / /
		5/11 - 1
	' 	eter's sermon literally gets cut short by his arrest. What a l 📥		dramatic way to close a service. We might imagine this would be a blow for this infant movement, but, nope, another two nousand people sign up (Acts 4:4). Peter deftly handles being dragged efore the religious council. What? Are you arresting us for showing kindness
	l to	a lame man, who was healed by Jesus, whom you, by the way, had murdered?
	Yes	ou've got to love it. Peter then gives us one of the iconic lines of the New Testament: "Salvation is found in no one else, for there is no ther name under heaven given to mankind by which we must be l 📷		aved" (Acts 4:12). Peter's crowd of religious elite absolutely would ave heard the words of Joel adapted to fit Jesus. "And everyone who Ca	alls on the name of Yahweh will be saved." (Joel 2:32).
j 🖷
l 🔲 ı 🗪
ranga da kananan da ka	N N	lotes:
	.	Notice that it's the Sadducees who arrest Peter and John. We've heard a lot about their counterparts, the Pharisees, but this group is lesser known. If the Pharisees were the proletariat, the Sadducees were the bourgeoisie.
		They had several doctrinal distinctives in contrast to the Pharisees (and Jesus for that matter); they didn't believe in an afterlife, angels, or, importantly here, the resurrection of the dead (Acts 4:2).
		importantly nere, the resurrection of the dead (New 1.2).
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	'	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints				The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line				Keep important text and graphics within the green line
	 	_
				Acts 4:23-37 DATE / /
				eter and John are released and immediately reconvene with the rest of the believers. They're starting to recognize that, as Jesus Let told them, this won't be all smooth sailing (Matthew 10:17-18).
			_
	' (n '	Our instinct might be to figure out how not to get arrested in the future;
				their prayer is for more boldness (Acts 4:29). The mission matters more than our safety. There's another echo of the kind of close-knit, generous community that the Spirit creates (Acts 2:42). Luke also introduces us to a character who will be pivotal in the trajectory of the church, Joseph, who is better known by his nickname, Barnabas (Acts 4:36)
	_		_ '
	' (5)		'
			_
	, 🖳
	' 🗂		"
	' '		,
	' (1)		•
	, 🕒 📗
	' 		"
			-:
				Notes:
				• There's an implicit challenge to our modern, Western way of life wrapped up in these verses. I believe our church is excellent at this. Not only do we help
	' 👝		"	anyone in our congregation, but we also help people in our community weekly. However, this doesn't mean we can't still grow in this grace (Acts
	,
			_	4:33). What would our lives look like if we completely let go of a sense of
		00		personal ownership (Acts 4:32)? What's the difference between ownership
		I A 🗀		and stewardship?
	l 📉
,			\perp	,
Keep important text and graphics within the green line			 	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
I DE DIDK LIDE IS WHERE WE SIM TO TRIM VOLIT PRINTS				Line blok line is where we aim to trim volly brints

i ne pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		I ne pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	H	Keep important text and graphics within the green line	- 1
		Acts 5:1-16 DATE / /
		* - 	ı
		f Acts had a soundtrack, we'd start to hear some dark, ominous	- 1
		music as we enter Chapter 5. Up to this point, despite opposition	- 1 from outside, inside the church has been sunshine and rainbows.	. !
		The church is growing, everyone is sharing everything, and the Gospel is being spread. The problem wasn't that Ananias and Sapphira didn't give the full amount of the land. In fact, they weren't obligated to sell it	t or provide any of the proceeds to the church. They were trying to	- 1 purchase glory for themselves at a discount. Sadly, today, there's no	i shortage of people who will prey on the faith of desperate people for	- 1
	1 🐷	personal gain. This harms Jesus's reputation, and, as Peter does here, it	Į Į should be called out (Acts 5:3, 9). It begs the question: where are we	I tempted to appear more virtuous than we are being?	- 1
		Transfer of the second of the
			- 1
			- ·
			- ¦
			- !
			ı
	1		-
			_
			- 1
			-
			-
			- ;
			. !
			- 1
			_
	ı
			Ī
			- 1
			1
		Notes:	i
		• Luke is setting up an important literary contrast here. To this point, the	- 1 church has been "filled" with the Spirit (Acts 4:31). Here we see the	. !
		opposition of spiritual forces. Ananias is "filled" with Satan (Acts 5:3). If	ı you're familiar with the story of Achan (Joshua 7), there are some	١ interesting parallels. Both events directly follow a high point, involve secret sin, pose a threat to the community, and both need to be dealt with dramatically.	ı
		chamadany.	ı
	\		ı
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	I	Keep important text and graphics within the green line	'
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line			Keep important text and graphics within the green line
			Acts 5:17-42 DATE / /
	· • V		,
			f you're starting to see a pattern, good. That means you're reading the story correctly. The apostles (all of them, this time) get ' 🖳 '		arrested again. They're miraculously released and immediately go preach in the temple courts. There's a comical scene where the Sanhedrin (the religious council) tries to retrieve them from prison, and they can't find them. Ironically, they're in the most public place in all of Jerusalem, doing precisely what got them arrested in the first place!
			It's an exposure of the complete impotence of the religious elite to do anything to stop this movement. There's a short scene where a wise member of the Sanhedrin, Gamaliel, points out the obvious. If this ' 😅		movement is from God, we don't want to be in the way; if it's not, it'll
	' (5)		die out on its own (Acts 5:34-39).
) .  ) ₁
	'_'
)
	' _ '
			J
	. —
)
	' 🐷
			, l
	' 📻 ' 📗)
			/
	' —) ·
			'

			· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
]
			,
	🕋) I
	' 📆 📗)'
			Notes:
			• The apostles were flogged, warned, and released. Instead of questioning God as to why they were experiencing suffering, Luke highlights that they were "rejoicing" (Acts 5:41). They understood this suffering as a kind of privilege. We have no need to court opposition like the "rage-bait" seen on , —		social media today, but sometimes the right enemies can be an indication you're on the right track.
	'
	1		JI
)
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	'		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to trim your print

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to tinn your prints				The pink line is where we aim to till your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	– н			Keep important text and graphics within the green line
		/		Acts 6:8-15 DATE / /
		0		ACIS 0.0-13
	' (1)			he bad guys are at it again. Things start as an argument, escalate into accusations, and end in an arrest. It's an age-old
	' ~ '		— '	tactic: when you don't have the truth, you have to resort to violence. Instead of the apostles, this time their target is the newly appointed deacon, Stephen. The accusations are part of a deliberate
			_ '	misinformation campaign. In fact, it's the same charge leveled at Jesus:
				that Jesus was going to destroy the temple and do away with the ' -			traditions (Luke 23:2). One has to wonder how they thought Jesus was going to accomplish this feat, given that they believed he was dead.
				going to accomplish this leat, given that they believed he was dead.
	' 🐷		. .
	' ("
	' — '		_ '
			'
	_ '
			_
				N
				Notes:
	-			O Did you notice where Stephen's opposition came from? It was opposition from Jewish leaders visiting from outside Israel (Acts 6:9)? The implication is that people who had witnessed the events of Acts 2 returned home and ' 🖳			shared the wild things they'd seen. This may have prompted the leaders of those synagogues to travel to Jerusalem to trace the source of these stories.
				·
	' (C)			• This section concludes with a strange line about Stephen's face being "like
	_			the face of an angel" (Acts 6:15). At first glance, it might sound like Luke is saying Stephen looked sweet, soft, and beautiful, but remember that, in the Bible, angels are generally terrifying (Joshua 5:13-14; Judges 6:11-22; Matthew 28:2-4). This detail may be a clever literary device that will pay _ :	off at the end of the next chapter, when Stephen accuses the Sanhedrin of being like their forefathers, who ignored the angels who revealed God's /\ 		truth (Acts 7:53).
Keep important text and graphics within the green line			\Box +	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			$\overline{}$	The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line			Keep important text and graphics within the green line
			·
			Acts 7:30-53 DATE / /
	: • · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
			redictably, Stephen's pointed history lesson is not received well.
	' 		To be fair, he gets pretty personal toward the end, where he
	' —		accuses them of being just like their forefathers, who kept murdering God's prophets. The speech begs us to see ourselves in it.
			Where do we fail to see God at work in the world? Where do we ignore His call to , 👝 📗		repentance? Stephen becomes the first follower of Jesus to be killed for his faith, but it sparked a wildfire of faith spreading across the known world.
			world.
			I
			I
	' 😈 📗
	' .
	, 🖳 📗
	'_'		I .
			1
	'  		•
			I
			T. Control of the Con
	'
			-
			I .
	' 🔳
			l
			T. Control of the Con
	'  		·
			·
			I
	' - 		Notes:
	, 🖳 📗		O Luke ends this section by drawing our attention to a figure off to the side
	'  		who is watching the coats of the men killing Stephen, a young man named Saul (Acts 7:58), whom we're more familiar with in the Greek version of his name, Paul.
	' 🦱
	, 📉 📗		O Luke writes that the Sanhedrin "gnashed their teeth" at Stephen. It's an expression of rage. Jesus often used it to describe the emotional experience ı 📖 I of hell. Instead of pain and fear, maybe Jesus was saying that hell is full of people who are raging at God?
		$\Lambda \sqsubseteq$	people with the inging at Ood.
			I.
Keep important text and graphics within the green line			Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			The pink line is where we gim to trim your prints

I ne pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		I ne pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	H	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
		Acts 8:1-8 DATE / /
	! .	7.535 577 5
		tephen's murder is like blood in the water for pent-up resentment	 - against this young Jesus movement. A historic persecution breaks out, and the church scatters. Remember reading Peter's words, '	these Christians in 1 Peter? Instead of stamping faith out, the unintended consequence is that Christianity leaves the borders of Jerusalem. Christians escape Israel and, as they do, the message of Jesus and his resurrection spreads, first to the Samaritans through Philip (remember him from the last chapter?). What looks like defeat becomes a catalyst for the expansion of the Kingdom of God.
		Successive and supplied the supplied of the supplied to the su
			_
			-
	;
			-
			_
			-
			_
			-
			_
	; -		-
			_ '
			-
			_
			-
			_
		Notes:
		O Since today's reading is a bit shorter, it might be insightful to dig into Jesus's words in Matthew 24 and Mark 13. Jesus may have prophesied this ' ()	"great persecution" (Acts 8:1) in those passages. These prophecies can be confusing. Jesus talks about the "coming of the Son of Man," and we r I naturally interpret that as Jesus' second coming. However, in the context of these passages, Jesus is referring to events surrounding the destruction of the temple, which occurred in 70 AD. Also, notice the linguistic similarities	5 between Matthew 24:40,41 and Acts 8:3. Jesus seems to have been warning his followers about the events that would begin in Acts 8.
			_
Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints	- 1	Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints	_
The plant and is where we aim to thin your plants		The plant line is where we dill to thin your plants

i ne pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		i ne pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	Н	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
		Acts 8:9-25 DATE / /
	' "	ACIS 0.3-23
		bane's a baief manage in the starm of baneths Complia here's a brief pause in the story of how the Gospel is spreading, and Luke zeroes in on a magician named Simon.
		There are echoes of Ananias and Sapphira in this story (Acts 5); humans attempting to commodify Jesus for their own glory and gain. Peter rebukes him in the strongest possible terms (Acts 8:20-23).
		-
		NT .
		Notes:
		O Throughout Acts, we get incidental glimpses of how the Spirit works. For example, there was a distinction between being baptized and having the Spirit poured out on them (Acts 8:16). Luke zeros in on this interesting detail about the Spirit being "given at the laying on of the apostles' hands" (Acts 8:18). There was something unique about what the apostles were '	doing, so much so that Simon tried to purchase this power. It seems that, with two exceptions (Acts 2, when the Spirit first came upon the Jews, and Acts 10, when the Spirit first came upon the Gentiles), the miraculous gifts
	'  	were something passed on specifically through the apostles (Acts 8:18; Acts 19:6; Romans 1:11). This is not a hard and fast rule, and of course, the Spirit can and does work miraculously today. However, there does seem to be something special about the public and spectacular way in which the Spirit showed up to establish the church.
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	- '	 Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
		Acts 8:26-40 DATE / /
		uke has a clever way of leading the reader to the truth rather than beating them over the head with declarative statements.
		For example, Luke shows that the Gospel is about to move into the Gentile world by introducing a visiting official from Ethiopia (The Samaritans who heard the Good News earlier in the chapter were half-Jewish). He also reemphasizes the importance of baptism by placing a ı —	question in the official's mouth (Acts 8:26).
	  i 🗀
	' -
	¹ ■

	, -
		Notes:
		• The history of Christianity in Ethiopia is fascinating. As early as 330 AD, King Ezana of Aksum made the official declaration that Ethiopia was a Christian nation. The current-day Ethiopian Orthodox Church, with tens of millions of adherents, traces its roots back to King Ezana. The Ge'ez Bible is one of the oldest complete Biblical canons. There are church buildings still in use that date back to the 12th century. When Jesuit
	; .	missionaries arrived in the 1500s, they were shocked to find a fully formed Christian community. We are more familiar with the history of Christianity through the Western world, but the story of Christianity in Ethiopia is just as vibrant and ancient.
		Isichei, Elizabeth. A History of Christianity in Africa. Grand Rapids, MI: Eerdmans, 1995.
Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

i ne pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		I ne pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	 	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
		Acts 9:1-19 DATE / /
		Protection 10 his is the "twist" of the book of Acts. Saul, seemingly the greatest threat to Christianity, will become its greatest advocate. On one hand, it's hard to overstate the seismic shift in Saul's life (Luke would not begin referring to him by his Greek name, Paul, until chapter 13). On the other hand, God took Saul, who was already monomaniacal and dedicated to God, and focused those same attributes on building rather than destroying the church. Jesus changed Saul completely, and Saul is exactly who he always was. In fact, Saul would later claim to have always acted in good conscience,
	'	even when he was persecuting the church (Acts 26:9; Phil. 3:6).
	'

		• ·
		Notes:
		• Remember back in Acts 1, where the eleven apostles, minus Judas, appointed Matthias as the twelfth? It sure seems like God already had Judas's replacement lined up (Acts 9:15), but the eleven could never have
	'  	guessed who He had in mind.
		Throughout the book of Acts, you'll come across three retellings of this event: Here and Acts 22:3-26 and Acts 26:9-18.
		Note that Jesus claims Paul is persecuting him (Acts 9:5). That's how
	-	closely Jesus identifies with the church. That should make us stop and think about how we are treating our fellow Christians.
		about now we are treating our remove Christians.

Keep important text and graphics within the green line	😈	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

i ne pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	-	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
		Acts 9:20-31 DATE / /
	! ─ .	7 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1
		f Saul's conversion felt drastic to him, it must have felt like whiplash for the Christians in Damascus. Saul went from "murderous threats" (Acts 9:1) to preaching that "Jesus is the Son ' '	of God" in less than a week! The Christians there are understandably suspicious (Acts 9:26), and the religious authorities in Damascus want to kill him (Acts 9:23). In a dramatic rescue, Saul is sent back to Jerusalem. We were introduced to Barnabas earlier (Acts 4:36), but he'	's about to play a crucial role in advocating for Saul among the nervous Christian population of Jerusalem. We're not told why Barnabas is so confident that Paul is not working deep undercover in an anti-Christian sting operation, but whatever Barnabas did, it worked. Of course, it takes no time at all for Saul to get the Jerusalem religious ' 	leaders feeling homicidal, so they send him back to his hometown of Tarsus.
			_
			_
			_
			_
			_
			_
	' 📹 ' 📗		_
			_
			_
			_
			_
			_
		Notes:
		O It's pretty fascinating that Saul was so steeped in Jewish literature that once it was "unlocked" for him, he could immediately out-argue (Acts 9:22) the	;
		religious elite.
		O Saul's hometown of Tarsus is still a metropolis on the coast of Southern Turkey, with a population of 350,732 (as of December 2025, larger than St. Paul, MN).
	l 😅 📗
· 			_
Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The plink line is where we aim to till you prints			The plink line is where we aim to till your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	- H		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
			Acts 9:32-43 DATE / /
	\ \ \		ACIS 9.32-40 DAIL 1 1
			aul's exploits will dominate the second half of the book of Acts, but for now, the focus shifts back to Peter. The church is growing rapidly, and Peter is trying to keep up. He visits believers in two small towns along the coast of Israel (both of which are now part of the Tel Aviv Metro area). This section feels like parts of the Gospels where Jesus healed people right and left to validate his message. Luke, in his subtle way, seems to be saying, "See, even though he's gone, Jesus is still working through the Spirit." As theologian Scot McKnight writes, Peter "extends the mission of Jesus." We may or may not witness the miraculous on this level, but we can still play a role in caring for the poor, the sick, and the marginalized and, in so doing, ' ("extend" the mission of Jesus (Matthew 25:31-46).
	'  '

			Notes:
			O We've mentioned this before, but it's worth revisiting. Often in the Gospels, we don't get people's names. Luke approaches this more like an investigative journalist (Luke 1:3). If you're making things up, you try to avoid corroborating details. Instead, Luke mentions Aeneas and Tabitha/Dorcas by name and tells us where they lived. Luke's readers could potentially track these people down and ask them for their first-hand accounts of these events.
		1 T 📜
Keep invested to deep i	📹
Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

I ne pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	 	Keep important text and graphics within the green line	_
		Acts 11:19-30 DATE / /
		he door allowing non-Jews into the Jesus movement had been	1 cracked open, and a trickle of Gentile believers had been showing up. However, the primary target of mission work wa	ιS still primarily fellow Jewish people, but things were about to change drastically. Antioch becomes the location of the first church comprise	d primarily of non-Jewish Jesus followers. Going from a few dozen Jewi followers of Jesus to a multi-ethnic movement of tens of thousands in short span of time must have been dizzying. How do we respond to	1 4 change and growth in our church? Do we welcome it? Are we I 🚮 📗	skeptical? Nervous?
		skepucai: Nervous:
			—

			—
			_
			_
			_

	' -	Notes:
		O The word "Christian" gets coined in this new, Gentile church in Antioch. It was likely first used as a pejorative. Tacitus would later use it negatively to describe "a class hated for their abominations." (Tacitus, Annals Book 15)	,
		Chapter 44). The fact that Luke brings it up here is another example of th pattern of Christianity redeeming things intended for evil.	iC.
		• Luke also includes a bit of context about a collection that would be taken	0 up for Christians in Jerusalem struggling with famine. It may not seem like much, but this collection would play a big role in Saul's later missionary	XC.
	ı 😅	work and letters (1 Corinthians 16:1-4; 2 Corinthians 8-9).
		work and ieuers (1 Communans 10.1-4, 2 Communans 0-3).
Keep important text and graphics within the green line		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	- +	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
		A -1- 40:4 40
		Acts 13:1-12 DATE / /
		T t's here that Luke will switch from using Saul's Hebrew name and
	' 🕋 📗	start calling him by his Roman name, Paul. Since Paul was a Roman citizen, it's likely that he's always used this name for legal
	, 🖳 📗
	' 👝'	purposes. The reason for the switch here is probably because of Paul's emphasis on reaching the Roman world. It's common for missionaries, even today, to take on a name that is more familiar to the people with _	whom they're trying to connect. The narrative will remain focused on Paul through the end of the book. However, Acts is not about Paul, Peter, or anyone else. Notice how often the Spirit plays a central role in these stories. "The Holy Spirit said" (Acts 13:2), "The Holy Spirit sent" (Acts 13:4), "The Holy Spirit filled(Acts 13:9, 52). The stories are detailed and vivid, filled with drama, conflict, and action. They deserve to be read carefully. However, it's important that we don't lose sight of the fact that the main character is God.

		1
	' -
		I
	' 💹 📗
		1
		·
		·
	' -
		Notes:
		O When Paul strikes Bar-Jesus with temporary blindness, it directly mirrors
	' 🔲	Paul's own experience on the Damascus road, where he was blinded and had to be led by the hand into the city. God's judgment can also be redemptive. Paul's blindness preceded his spiritual sight; Bar-Jesus's blindness might have been intended as an opportunity for repentance rather than just punishment.
		O Also, we miss some wordplay here. Bar-Jesus means "Son of Joseph," but Paul calls him a "Son of Satan" (Acts 13:10). It's also interesting to note that the Spirit prompted Paul to call him that. Evidently, the fruit of the Spirit isn't only nice things like love, joy, and peace.
		spirit isn't only fince timigs like love, joy, and peace.
Voor important tout and available the array time		+ Koon important taxt and combine within the
Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
p		 The familiar is a finite and four familiar familiar for the familiar famili

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	- H		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
			A a to 45:4 04 DATE / /
			Acts 15:1-21 DATE / /
	1 📥 💠
			ensions are simmering just below the surface in the young ' (church. Some people are demanding that all Christians, including Gentiles, scrupulously follow the Torah, including
	' '		the command to be circumcised. Others, including Paul, Barnabas, and Peter, are just as adamant that this expectation would be a violation of the grace by which we're all saved and attempting to earn salvation through rule-keeping. Plus, it would strongly discourage anyone from joining the church. Imagine if you had to have a very sensitive surgery to become a Christian? Acts 15 is a church meeting in Jerusalem to attempt to settle the question once and for all: does God want us to continue enforcing the law, or are we truly saved by grace?
	' 😭 📗		Both sides are considered. Finally, James (likely the brother of Jesus) gets up and makes one of the most profound statements concerning the mission of Jesus. "It is my judgment, therefore, that we should not make it difficult for the Gentiles who are turning to God" (Acts 15:19).
			make it difficult for the Genthes who are turning to God (Acts 13.19).
			1
	' 🖳
	' - '
			[

	' 🔘
			Notes:
			O It's not hard to see both sides of the argument. The Torah has been so central, so crucial to Hebrew life for thousands of years. How is it possible that we're abandoning it just to let some Gentiles into the club? What the pro-torah group couldn't see is that God wasn't doing away with the law; 1 0 1
			rather, it had been fulfilled in Christ (Matthew 5:17). To continue to keep 1 🐷		the law would be like keeping the training wheels on long after you learned
	ر سے		to balance.
	' 🚾
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	-		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			i ne pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	- 		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
			Acts 15:36-41 DATE / /
	: • ¥		27.02 7
	1 1 1 1		where is definitely not trying to clean these narratives up to make everyone look shiny and happy. Case in point: Paul and a man nicknamed "the Encourager" can't get along. At the heart of the dispute is a young man named Mark. Paul doesn't think Mark is trustworthy, and he'll hurt the mission. Barnabas thinks not bringing him will hurt Mark (Barnabas and Mark may also have been related, Colossians 4:10). You can see the dilemma. It's not hard to imagine Paul calling Barnabas soft or Barnabas reminding Paul that he was the ' -		one who believed in Paul when everyone else was scared (Acts 9:26-27).
			Luke uses a Greek phrase that literally means "harsh, cutting words were exchanged" (Acts 15:39). We expect the tension to resolve and for Paul and Barnabas to hug it out, but that's not what happens. These ' 📹 📗		two, who had been such a dynamic team spreading the Gospel, split.
			In the narrative of Acts, Paul and Barnabas never work together again.
			It's a stark reminder that these stories are about real, imperfect people with deep emotions.
	' 📹 '
			Notes:
	' -		O So who was right? Paul or Barnabas? Maybe both, maybe neither.
			However, later in life, Paul will refer to how valuable Mark is for ministry (2 Timothy 4:11).
			O Also, church history tells us that this same Mark was the author of the Gospel by that name. It may be that this rift created the opportunity for Mark to spend more time with Peter, who, according to most scholars, was 1 📉 📗	T	the source of the content in the Gospel of Mark.
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	_		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

	The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
	Acts 16:1-15 DATE / /
100
4	uke has a habit of dropping in these little cameos here and there, like mini origin stories for well-known Christian leaders.
\	It's likely that when Luke sat down to finalize his account,
	Timothy was a well-known leader in the church (1 Timothy 1:3).
 	Timothy, likely just a young man here, joins Paul as he's still on his mission to bring the letter from the leaders in Jerusalem to the 4	churches (Acts 15:22). Paul and his team are probably just going from town to town but, occasionally, the Spirit will intervene and redirect.
יווי	God has a specific person He wants Paul to encounter in a town called Philippi, Lydia (Acts 16:14). A strong, healthy church will flourish in {	Philippi, very likely meeting in Lydia's home (Acts 16:15). There's wisdom in planning and preparation. Still, we can't be so tied to our \	plans that we don't listen to the Spirit. After all, the leading of the 4	Spirit is what the book of Acts is all about.
1
.
1
$(\ \)$
1 4
,
7
\	Notes:
	O Including Lydia, women played a crucial role in funding and sustaining the 1	ministry of the gospel (Luke 8:1–3; Romans 16:1–2; Colossians 4:15). The fact that these women are named in Scripture underscores their importance, often in contrast to patriarchal norms of the day. These, and other women, were essential to the infrastructure and growth of the early church.

	Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The plink line is where we aim to trim your prints				The pink line is where we aim to tinn your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	_ _		-	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
	' -
				Acts 16:16-24 DATE / /
	'			here's so much happening in this short passage. Paul is still in ' 🐷) '	Philippi. He's trying to do his usual, spread the Gospel thing, and an exploited/possessed woman follows him around
	, 🖳
	 		_	shouting that he was a servant of God and had the truth (Acts 16:17).
				Technically, she is telling the truth, but this is a good example that it's not just the message but also the method that matters. After "many"
	' '
			.	days, Paul gets so annoyed that he casts the spirit out of her, which sets off a chain reaction that ultimately sends Paul and Silas to prison
	'-		'	(Seriously, these stories are so fascinating). I think most of us would feel
			-	like our effectiveness for God was pretty diminished, but, as we'll see,
				God had Paul right where he wanted him.
				8
	' 🚮) '
	. 🕒		J .
		11'-	_
	'		_ '
	' 🐷		, '
	' a l		"
				Notes:
	' .			O You might have noticed a significant change in perspective that took place in today's reading. Up to this point, Luke has written in the third person, but in this passage, for the first time, he says "we" (Acts 16:10). From here
	-			on, the narrative takes on quite a bit more detail, validating that Luke
	' 🖱 📗		"	himself is experiencing these events firsthand.
				O This woman in this story had, in Greek, a (πνεῦμα Πύθων) pneuma pythōn.
				This is a unique phrase connected to Greek mythology. Python was the
) i	serpent who guarded the Oracle of Delphi. This story connects Greek
	'		_	. ,
		o		mythology and demon possession and, in this case, shows God's power over both.
			L.
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	- '			Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints				The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The plant line is where we aim to thin your plants			The plant line is where we aim to unit your plants
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	· – – + –		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
			Acts 16:25-40 DATE / /
	\ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \		POCO TOLES TO
			t's midnight, Paul and Silas are in jail, and they aresinging? I , ,		love little observations like "the other prisoners were listening to them" (Acts 16:25), as if they had much of a choice. There's an earthquake (a potential callback to Acts 2), and the prison doors are opened (Acts 16:26). Surely, God is freeing Paul and Silas, just like he did with multiple apostles already, but instead, Paul and Silas stay put.
			Why? Isn't it clear that God is providing a way of escape? Why doesn't Paul leave? Because it would bring harm to the jailer (Acts 16:28). Notice it was not the preaching or the singing but this act of self-sacrifice that prompted the jailer to ask Paul, "What must I do to be saved?" (Acts  		16:30). True goodness earns influence (Matthew 5:14-15)

)
	_
			/ _
]

	' '
) No. 1
			Notes:
			O This jailer's entire household believed and was baptized (Acts 16:33). How is it possible that they all had individual conversion experiences at the same time? Well, they probably didn't, not in the way we think about it.
			This is a clear example of how different the culture of the first century was from ours. People thought about themselves as part of a collective.
			Decisions were often made collectively rather than individually. This is hard for our modern, Western, individualized minds to understand, but it's still true in many parts of the world. The way you interacted even with your own beliefs, was part and parcel with the other members of your 1	household.
Keep important text and graphics within the green line			Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	– –		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
			Philippians 1:3-30 DATE / /
			27.112 7 7
			T ears later, in a different prison, this one in Rome, Paul composed a letter to this church in Philippi. When he thought about their "partnership from the first day," (Phil 1:5), he must've been thinking about being hosted by Lydia in her home (Acts
T 16:15). When he wrote about being in chains in Rome (Phil 1:13), he must've been thinking about being in chains in Philippi (Acts 16:23).
			Just like he knew in Philippi that God would use this confinement for His glory, the same would be true in Rome (Phil. 1:12)
T.
	1 1
	' ~ '
	' -
T
			1
			·
	\ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \
T.	' (
			1 1
)
Keen important text and graphics within the groon line	_ _		Keen important text and graphics within the green line
Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
		Acts 17:1-15 DATE / /
	' 	ACIS 17.1-13
		Tou're likely noting the similarity in people's reactions as Paul
	' 🐷	goes to new places—crowds, preaching, jealousy, violence.
		Wash, rinse, repeat. This is why this passage stands out. Luke contrasts the resistance of the Thessalonians to the Bereans. Luke writes, "Now the Berean Jews were of more noble character than those in Thessalonica, for they received the message with great eagerness and examined the Scriptures every day to see if what Paul said was true." (Acts 17:11) By the way, there would end up being a healthy
	l 🐷 📗 church in Thessalonica (1 Thess 1:1-10). However, it begs the question of how open we are to carefully accepting what new thing God might be doing among us. Being open-minded to change doesn't mean being gullible or faithless or changing after trends; it means faithfully
	'	following God wherever He leads.
		I
	'  	·
		l
	'
	'   av
	' .	Notes:
		O There is a lot of opposition to Paul's mission work in these stories. Spiritual opposition is a reality. There often seems to be a pattern, even today. The more a person or group finds their way to Christ-likeness, the more
	'  	difficulties arise. Earlier, Paul had told the churches he was planting, "We must go through many hardships to enter the Kingdom of God" (Acts 14:22). This does not mean we have to instigate conflict. There are plenty of Christians who seem to think that making people mad is a badge of honor.
	-
		Christians might be bold, but we should be known by our gentleness and love (John 13:55; Philippians 4:5)
	' -	I
Koop important tout and graphics within the graph line	_	Koop important taxt and graphics within the server line
Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		 Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	_ _		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
	' -
		,	Acts 17:16-34 DATE / /
	1 6 4		Tou can still go to many of the locations Luke references. You
	' W		can literally stand in the Areopagus at Mars Hill where Paul preached this sermon in today's reading. We've read about
	_ , 🖳
	' ~		Paul's typical practice of starting his mission work with fellow Jews, but this passage gives us valuable insight into how he approached sharing Jesus with Gentiles. It would be worth your time to slowly make your way through his sermon (Acts 17:22-31), and note along the way the claims Paul made and how he presented them. What did he think was crucial to share with an educated, Gentile audience? How did he ı 😈		substantiate his claims?
			Substantiate in Claims.
	' .) '
	' 🖳
	_
			JI J1
			l
			'
	' 🔘
			J.,
	' — '
			· 1
			i
	 		7 I
	' 🐷
			ļ ————————————————————————————————————

	, – 1		NY .
	' (S		Notes:
			O In this sermon, Paul quotes two Gentile philosophers, Epimenides (6th
	, a l		Century BC) and Aratus (3rd Century BC). Paul quotes or alludes to pagan authors several times in his writings (1 Corinthians 15:33; Titus 1:12). These external sources don't validate the Gospel, but the Gospel can and should engage thoughtfully with the broader culture. There is ' 🖳		common ground to be found between eternal truth and popular thought.

Koon invocated tout and another white all a second to the			Lege important text and graphics within the green line
Keep important text and graphics within the green line			reep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints.

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		_		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	-			Keep important text and graphics within the green line
				· ·
		J, I		1 Corinthians 2:1-16 DATE / /
	: • ·	V I		':
				A Comparison Control of the state of the sta
		ш		fter Paul left Corinth, the church slid into disunity (1 Corinthians 1:11). Paul knew that at the root of their division
		ш
				was pride. He reminds them of his early days with them, how ш		they weren't won over by great logic or preaching, but by the power of ш		to the manage of the Council (1 Council in 20.5)
				the message of the Gospel (1 Corinthians 2:5).
		ш		1
		ш		J į
		ш
		ш]
	')'
				\ \
				'
	' 🔘
		ш		'I ш
		ш
		ш)
	' 🖳	ш		·
		ш
				'
				'l ————————————————————————————————————
		ш		J
				J _I
				· ·
				'
	' —			,
				Transfer of the second of the
)
)
				, I
)
				Γ
				/
		I.		li I
X 1		\prod	T	/I
			1 =
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	- I (Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		4		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	· I	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
		DATE / /
		Acts 19:1-22 DATE / /
		I.
	'	aul has spent significant time in various places, but the city of Ephesus has received three solid years. Too much happens to write it all down, so Luke selects several important highlights: a
	' 📻 '	daily school (Acts 19:9), some wild miracles (Acts 19:11-12), a fascinating story of some men being beaten up by a demon (Acts 19:13-16), and a fortune in sorcery books being burned (Acts 19:19).
		19.13-10), and a fortune in sorcery books being burned (Acts 19.19).
		T. Company of the Com
	' 🐷
		1
	' ==
		1
		I and the second
	'	·
		T. Control of the Con
		I and the second
	'
		I ———————————————————————————————————— 1

		Notes:
		• The Seven Sons of Sceva. The power of Jesus isn't simply in an invocation of his name or authority. In this approach, the sons were attempting to use
	'
		Jesus as a power tool to accomplish their own purposes. It's like people ask
	, 🔲 📗	God to help them win the lottery with a promise that they'll definitely use
	'_	the money for good. Power in Christ is about submission, exemplified in obedience and trust. These men learn the hard way that trying to use Jesus, without a relationship with Jesus, won't accomplish anything.

Keep important text and graphics within the green line	🕋	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	— н		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
			Ephesians 2:11-3:13 DATE / /
			27.12 7 7
		📜 ˈ	uch later, Paul would compose a letter to the people of ' -		Ephesus. He must have been thinking about names and faces as dictated. He wanted them to know how to live, but first, he wanted to remind them that they're included. So many false teachers would come through telling them they were good enough or that they needed to be circumcised, that Paul wants them to feel how connected with Jesus they really are.
T
			·
T.
	' -
	' 📥 ' 📗

	'
			I.
			1
T
			1 1
			·
1
	' 📑 📗
			·
			1
T. Control of the con			·
)
Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		I ne pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	H	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
		Acts 19:21-41 DATE / /
		he Gospel versus the almighty dollar. Ephesus has a spiritual-industrial complex built around the goddess Artemis. Luke gives us a remarkably detailed breakdown of the local ' —	resistance to Paul when a silversmith starts noting a drop in idol sales as a result of Paul's preaching. The introduction of the Gospel should have a tangible impact on the community. Jesus reshapes and often upends our values, priorities, and, yes, bank account.
	'_'
	' -
	,
		Notes:
		O Luke gives us an incredibly detailed account of this riot in Ephesus
	' ()	(Remember, Luke probably experienced these events first-hand).
		Demetrius stirs the crowd into a frenzy, which winds up with them shouting how great Artemis was for "two hours" (Acts 19:34). The irony is that if Artemis were so great, she wouldn't need the angry PR campaign.
	 	There is also likely a little xenophobia on display here. The crowd gets really furious when they realize that they're dealing with the Jewish population of Ephesus (Acts 19:34)
Keep important text and graphics within the green line		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	+	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
	1	DATE / /
		Acts 20:1-12 DATE / /
	' "	cts scholar Craig Keener estimates that Paul travelled as much as 12,000 miles on his mission trips. You see a large chunk of ' 🖳 '	Lathat in the first five verses of Acts 20. You might have skipped through the list of names in verse four, but at least notice where they were from. These men were from cities where Paul had planted churches. Paul moved into a city, spread the Gospel, and then immediately began recruiting people to leave their familiar lives and join him on the mission. Yes, education and experience are valuable, but the model of Acts is, well, action. Where have we been waiting until we think we're ready to do something we should be doing now?
		ditti we tillik we te ready to do sometimiz we should be doing now.
	' 📖	·
	''
		·
		1
	' 🖳
	' 📖
	' 🖳	·
	' -
	' 🐷	·
		1
	' (m)	Notes:
		O There are so many great details in the story of Eutychus. Paul preaches until midnight and beyond. Paul's preaching puts someone to sleep (even to '_	death). The name Eutychus means "good luck." The young man's death and resurrection barely interrupt the all-night service! What a memorable
	' -	church service that must have been.
	I 📻 📗
Keep important text and graphics within the green line		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The winds line is subare use size to tripe very printe		The wink line is where we also to trips your prints

Keep important text and graphics within the green line Acts 21:17-26 DATE This passage navigates a tense dilemma. The struggle of keeping Torah and the salvation by grace that Paul has been preaching to the Gentiles comes into conflict once again. As you read, you get the distinct impression that the leaders in Jerusalem themselves are struggling to forge a way through this thorny problem. Take another look at Acts 21:20-21. Their solution is to ask Paul to join and pay for four local Jewish Christians who have fulfilled a Nazarite Vow and are ending it by attending a purification ceremony (Acts 21:23-24). The thought is that it would quell rumors that Paul was abandoning the law of Moses. Paul would speak of this strategic approach in places like Romans 14:1 and 1 Corinthians 9:19-20. Paul was OK with keeping laws and traditions for the sake of ministry or harmony. However, he was clear that he would draw the line when people began to believe that keeping these laws or traditions had anything to do with their salvation (Acts 15:1-2; Galatians 2:14). Where are Christians today still navigating tricky religious and cultural waters? Notes: O You can learn more about the Nazarite vow in Numbers 6. Keep important text and graphics within the green line Keep important text and graphics within the green line

i ne pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			I ne pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line			Keep important text and graphics within the green line
			Acts 21:27-40 DATE / /
			he attempts to pacify the local population with purification rituals fail miserably, at least in making the non-Jesus-following Jews happy. Once again, false rumors lead to riots (nothing really changes, does it?) Paul's arrested by local Roman officials who have no clue what everyone is worked up about. However, this is the scenario Paul expected. He knew that, if he weren't immediately killed, he'd gain an audience with his fellow Jews. He convinced the local
	l 🔲		official to let him address the crowd. Paul, still bloody from having been beaten (Acts 21:32), steps outside the holding cell to where the huge, murderous crowd is waiting. He gets them to stop yelling, and he speaks.
	l 🐷
	l 📟
			NY .
			Notes:Luke notes that Paul addresses the crowd in Aramaic, and as we'll see in a moment, this really gets their attention. Aramaic was the common language of the Hebrew people. It was a dialect similar to Hebrew that they'd adopted during their time in Babylonian captivity. Think about how similar Spanish and Italian are, and you get the idea. In crucial places in the Gospels, composed in Greek, included Aramaic words and phrases that even our English translations retain a transliteration of Aramaic (Mark
		🍁 🔲	5:41; 7:34, Matthew 27:46)
Voca important tout and a subtiliable and a			Voca important tout and growling the transmitted
Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

I ne pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		I ne pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
		Acts 22:22-30 DATE / /
			-
		he crowd was fine when Paul introduced Jesus. They were even	1 fine when he claimed that Jesus, who'd of course been executed, spoke to him. They were even ok when Paul relayed that God had told him that the people in Jerusalem wouldn't accept the Gospel. However, notice where they drew the line?at the first hint of the word "gentile" (Acts 22:21). Their response is so over the top (Acts 22:22-23). The Romans are completely bewildered about why everyone is up in arms about this guy. Here's where Paul finally plays his "By the way, I am a Roman citizen" card (Acts 22:25-29).
			_
	' 🖳
			_
			_
	, -
			_
			-
			-
			_
	:		-
	' (_
			-
			_
			- '
			_
		Notes:
		O Why did they have such a strong adverse reaction to Gentiles? Gentiles were encouraged to convert to Judaism (Exodus 12:48–49; Leviticus 17:8– 9; 24:22; Numbers 15:14–16; Deuteronomy 10:19; Isaiah 56:6–7). It's very ' 🚾 '	likely gentile converts living in Jerusalem. So what was the big deal? The crowd Paul is addressing saw Paul as compromising Judaism to make it more palatable to non-Jews. For them, he was actively undermining their way of life. As an occupied people, they had this as one of the last element	ίS of cultural and national identity available to them. They saw Paul as attempting to remove the final thing that made them Jewish.
	'-
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	I	Keep important text and graphics within the green line	_
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	H	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
		DATE / /
		Acts 23:1-11 DATE / /
		aul gets his turn in front of the Sanhedrin. His first sentence
	' 	claim earns him a slap on the face. Not a great start, but perseveres. He appeals to their commonality, belief in the
	, 🖳
	' 📹 📗	resurrection, and the fact that he is a Pharisee. Isn't that interesting?
		He says, "I am a Pharisee," not I was (Acts 23:6). Presumably, Paul doesn't see a conflict between an identity as a Pharisee and Christian.
		What Paul said did workat least with the Pharisees (Acts 23:9). The 1	Sadducees, not so much. As has happened so many times, the situation devolves into violence. However, here Paul gets the word that he has done what God wanted him to do in Jerusalem. Now, God tells him he'll be moving into the very heart of the Empire, Rome.
		· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
		God is clearly working, but notice how . Chance encounters. Roman officials. These things would look like chance if we didn't know that God was protecting Paul. How often are our mundane, everyday circumstances part of a divine conspiracy?
	_	ensumentation part of a divine comprise).
	' 🚾 📗
		·
	' - '
		I
		·
		I
	' .	Notes:
		O The Slap. Paul immediately condemns the act, calling the High Priest a "whitewashed wall." We'd probably use a term like "two-faced" or, more colloquially, "a pig with lipstick." Paul was upset that the keeper of the law was violating the law (Deuteronomy 17:6). But as soon as Paul learns that he had insulted the High Priest, even though the High Priest was in the wrong, he immediately apologized (Acts 23:5). It makes one wonder what Paul would think of the way we speak of our political leaders with whom we disagree?
		·
		I
		+
Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
The part of the control of the control of the part of the control		 The provided in the same to same your provided in the same to same your provided in the same to same t

i ne pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		I ne pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	 	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
		Acts 23:12-35 DATE / /
		Acto 20.12 Co
		t the risk of using this phrase too often, this passage is , ,	fascinating. We learn about a plot to kill Paul. We learn about Paul's extended family. Paul gets an escort of nearly 500 Roman soldiers. We get to read official Roman correspondence, probably because Luke got a look at the letter himself. This section marks the end of Paul's independence. He'll spend the next two years under Roman imprisonment and trial, and the story will occupy the remaining chapters of Acts.
		Terraming enapters of Tieus.
			-
			_
			_
			_
			-
			_
			-
			_
	' 🖳		-
			_
	, -		-
			_
	'_'
			-
			_
			-
	' -
			_
			_
		Notes:
	'  	O Every time I read this passage, I wonder if these 40 men who vowed not to) eat until Paul was killed kept that vow? My guess is, no. There is a Jewish	• legal precedent called Hattarat Nedarim that allows an oath to be nullified if the circumstances of the oath change drastically. Plus, according to Jesus, God's people had a habit of finding the loophole that would let them off the hook for these kinds of situations (Mark 7:10:13).
	1	the nook for these kinds of situations (wark 7.10.13).
			_
Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints	1 —	Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
The part of the carrier of the carri		The part and the dam to dam you prints

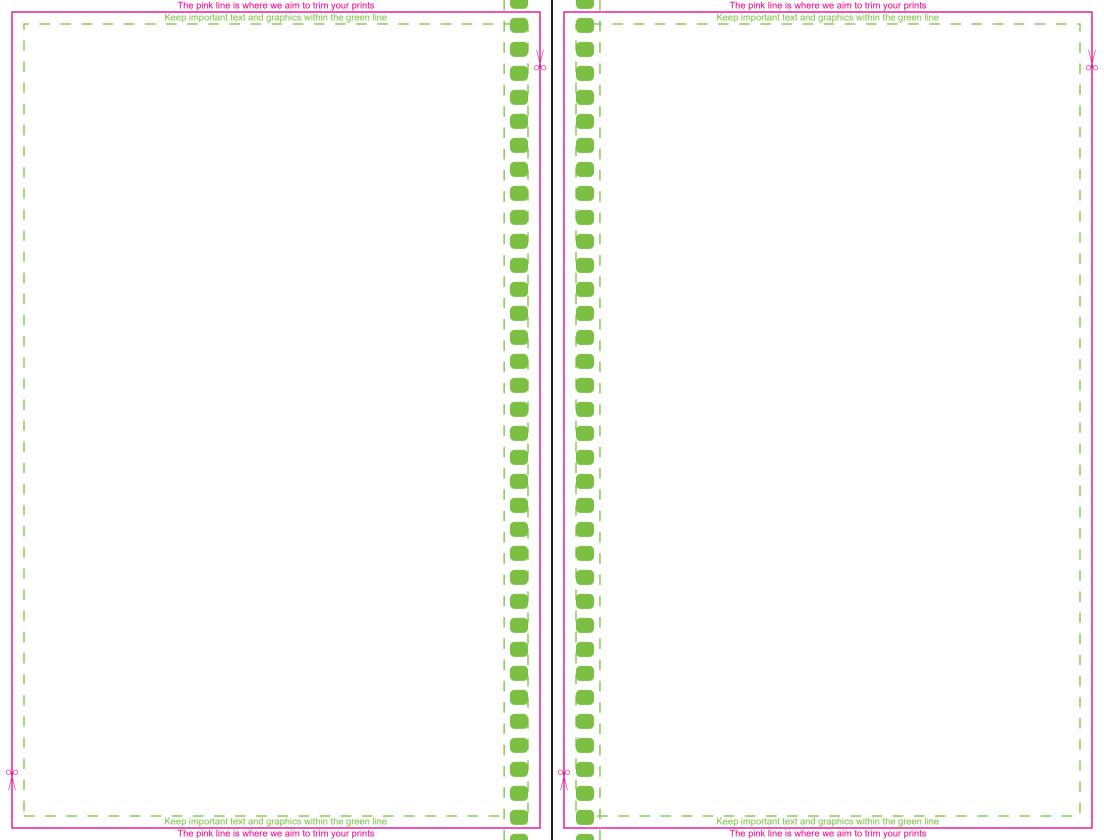

i ne pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		I ne pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	H	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
		Acts 24:1-27 DATE /	/_
	 	f you're struggling to follow Paul's arrest amid the web of geopolitical complexities, don't worry. This is confusing. Paul	is Leausing such a problem with the local religious authorities, who	o have little official power, that the actual Roman authorities have to intervene. The religious leaders attempt to reframe their theologic	cal frustration as legal charges (i.e., "inciting riots"). None of the Ror officials knows quite what to do. Letting Paul go will make the loc mad. Keeping a Roman citizen in prison is illegal. So, they do wh politicians have been doing for millennia: nothing. To avoid actua l 📖 📗	responsibility, they tie everything up with endless bureaucracy. Pa ui languishes in prison for two years.
	' -
		NT . 4
		Notes: O The Roman historian Tacitus records that Felix was a very unpopula governor. Here's a direct quote. Felix "practiced every kind of cruelty lust, wielding the power of a king with the instincts of a slave." He w eventually removed from office.	us
		• Luke keeps us in the story with fascinating details. Felix is corrupt (A	cts
		24:26 but curious (Acts 24:22, 24). However, the more he learned, th more he became "afraid." You get the impression that maybe he was starting to feel convicted.
Keep important text and graphics within the green line		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	- +		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
	' -		DATE / /
			Acts 25:1-27 DATE / /
	' - 1		elix is out, and the newly appointed Festus lands in the middle of a political hornet's nest. Felix, his predecessor, had tanked
	' 🕋 📗		Roman-Jewish relations. Felix decides to send Paul to Jerusalem to score some political points. Paul is trying to get to Rome (Acts 19:21; 23:11), and he knows he'll be killed if he goes to Jerusalem. So he
	'
			invokes provocatio, a right of every citizen to have an audience with the Emperor himself in Rome. I have no doubt that Paul envisioned himself sharing the Gospel with Caesar himself. Festus is obligated to ship Paul to Rome, but since the Jewish frustrations with Paul are theological, he still needs an official legal charge. So Festus consults Agrippa, a Roman-appointed Jewish official who happened to be visiting. Paul, of course, takes the opportunity to witness to each new person he's brought before.
	' ()		person he s brought before.
			T
	'
			I
	' -
	' (
	' - '

			Notes:
			O Agrippa was the son of Herod Agrippa I, who killed James (Acts 12:1-2),
	' ~ '		and grandson of Herod the Great, who wanted to kill Jesus (Matthew 2:1-8). He was technically Jewish but culturally Roman. Rome knew how important the Temple in Jerusalem was and handpicked him to oversee official Temple activities and personnel. Agrippa could appoint the next
	' -		High Priest, which gave him tremendous influence in Jerusalem. The political intrigue was every bit as fascinating and corrupt as it is today.
	' -
Koon important toyt and graphics within the graph line	_ 📹		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
Keep important text and graphics within the green line The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
p p you pinto			The familiar is a second of the familiar for the familiar

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	H	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
	1	DATE / /
	I 💮 🏑	Acts 26:1-32 DATE / /
	' 😈 🕆	his is officially the third time that we've heard Paul's testimony (Acts 9, 22). Once again, we get a few additional details and ' 💮	nuances. However, Paul's rhetorical power is worth highlighting. There are three genius points he makes. First, he points
	, 🕒	out that his message about Messiah is no different than what the
	'_'
		Hebrew people had been looking toward for centuries (Acts 26:7).
		Secondly, he acknowledges that points out that for a God who can do the miraculous, believing that Jesus rose from the dead isn't that g g incredible (Acts 26:8). Thirdly, he makes the case that, given how ' 🐷	homicidally angry his fellow countrymen were, it's a miracle that he's alive and standing before Agrippa at all (Acts 26:22). Agrippa
	1	concludes that, Paul might be off his rocker but he isn't guilty of anything that deserves punishment (Acts 26:24, 31). Nevertheless, he appealed to Caesar, and to Caesar he will go.
	''	appeared to Caesar, and to Caesar ne win go.

)
		II
		/·
	' 💮)
	' 🖳 '
		'
) i
	' 🖳	Notes:
		O There's more than one way to tell the same story. There's even more than ' 📉 📗	one way to tell your story of your next steps toward Jesus. Paul clearly does this throughout the three narratives of his conversion. He's not being dishonest; he's emphasizing what will make the story relatable and
	'  	impactful to his particular audience. Stories of coming to Jesus are naturally interesting. Yes, even your story is compelling. Have you
	'	considered your testimony and what elements would make your story
	l 🐷	compelling to different audiences?
		·
	' -
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	📶	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
		to the contract of the contrac

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints		_			The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints
Keep important text and graphics within the green line					Keep important text and graphics within the green line
					Romans 15:1-27 DATE / /
		\mathbb{V}		' U
		00			10
	' 😈			'	his chapter is almost entirely names of people who have played
					This enapter is uniforce entirely interior or people who have picyed a special role in Paul's ministry. You'll recognize some names, but pay attention to what he says about each person. Paul but pay attention to what he says about each person. Taul hasn't been to Rome yet, but he's an experienced missionary building networks of partners and co-laborers who are crucial for the spread of the gospel. The action has centered on Paul, but Paul would be the first the gospet. The action has centered on Faut, but Faut would be the first to admit that the growth of the kingdom has been a team effort.
	. —			.
					1
					The state of the s
					I and the second se
					1
					The state of the s
					· '
					•
	' .
					The state of the s
					1
					·
					I I
	· 👝				The state of the s
					1
					I and the second se
	' 🖳			.
					I I
					· ·
					•
					I and the second se
	' ~
					1
					l e e e e e e e e e e e e e e e e e e e 0
↑ I			/\
I.					· ·
Keep important text and graphics within the green line		+1		+	Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints	1	- 1	-		The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to tinn your prints			The plant line is where we aim to unit your plants
Keep important text and graphics within the green line	H		Keep important text and graphics within the green line
			Acts 27:1-26 DATE / /
	' "		ACIS 21:11 20 BITTLE 1 1
			aul is on a painstakingly tedious journey to Rome. If you don't , -		like layovers, you would have hated this trip. I've often wondered
	' 📹		why Luke devotes so much detail to this voyage while other stories are so spare. For example, what happened to the Ethiopian eunuch after his baptism in Acts 8? Or the jailer and his family in Acts 16, what were their names, what became of them? Yet here we get a detailed travelogue, complete with ports, winds, and ship logistics. One reason is that Luke is actually present for this journey, a fact he signals by using "we" sixteen times. But there's also a subtle yet crucial ' -		thematic purpose. Luke shows that not only are Roman and Jewish authorities powerless to stop the gospel (Acts 21–26), but even the forces of nature cannot prevent the kingdom of God from advancing.
			l lorees of flattare earmor prevent the kingdom of God from advancing.
		Н.
	I 💮
	' -
	ı 📟
)
	' ()		Notes:
			O In Jewish thought, the sea carries symbolic and theological weight. Like a dark, spooky forest, the sea, in Jewish thinking, represents chaos and danger. It's the watery abyss from which God brings order (Genesis 1:2). It shows up in poetry as threatening and angry (Psalm 107:23–32; Isaiah 57:20). In Revelation 21, there is "no more sea," meaning that the forces ı		of chaos and danger have been eradicated.
		1
)
Keep important text and graphics within the green line			Keep important text and graphics within the green line
The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints			The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

The pink line is where we aim to trim your prints

Keep important text and graphics within the green line

hen I think about the book of Acts, the image that most sticks with me is from all the way back in Chapter One. The apostles had just asked Jesus when he would "restore" the kingdom. They were probably still thinking about the kingdom in terms of borders and armies. Jesus tells them that they don't get to know that. Instead, they should focus on being his witnesses "to the ends of the earth." Then Jesus just disappears, like a tractor beam into the clouds. The disciples all crane their necks upward, probably trying to figure out what in the world just happened. As they're still looking up, two men, maybe angels, appear and say, "Why are you looking up? He's coming back the same way he left." They don't say it, but the subtext sure sounds like they're saying, "He's coming back, so get to work." And they do.

My prayer is that our church will have the same determined spirit, the same depth of faithfulness, the same focus on unity, and the same impact on our corner of the world.

Copyright 2026 / Woodbury Church of Christ 4920 Woodbury, Dr. Woodbury, Minnesota, 55129 woodburychurch.org